"I lost my dad last winter and after reading Experiencing Grace, I have better insight into what I have been feeling and a way to start the healing process. Thank you Dee. I love you very much!" – Ed Baldwin, Assistant Women's Basketball Coach, The Ohio State University & college basketball coach of Ms. Stokes

"In her search for spirituality in the wake of her mother's death, D. Michelle Stokes captures the depth of feelings one encounters with the loss of a loved parent, emotions one cannot truly know until they are experienced. As she yearns for her mother, as does each of us who has lost a beloved parent, the author finds grace and strength in God's gifts. D. Michelle Stokes provides a selection of scriptures to reinforce God's purpose in our lives, even in the saddest circumstances. This is an insightful book that provides a course for dealing with the death of a parent, a milestone many baby boomers are facing."
—Elizabeth L. Shoenfelt, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology, Western Kentucky University

"To expose your pain to the world is never easy. To peel back the layers and show friends and strangers alike the truth of your heartache, in an attempt to shed light to the pathway of recovery is a gift from the Creator alone.

D. Michelle's journey of self discovery and healing is a beautiful testament of faith. Whether your journey is one of accepting the loss of a loved one or coming to terms with the loss of a job, a possession, or a dream unfulfilled the spirit of this book will speak to your situation.

The scenic trail and open words of D. Michelle's tempest wound of losing her mother and the aura of allowing God to show up and make the crooked way straight will inspire you! She invites the reader to walk with her through the days, weeks, and months of her grief and her recovery. Praise God on high for the truth of His amazing grace!"
— Angela Ware, Corporate Trainer
